

V Cuddington Village Voice

February 2024

Spring term 2024 got off to a cracking start with new topics and the buzz of learning filling the building.

As part of their Superhero topic, Foundation class enjoyed a fantastic visit from Haddenham Firefighters. Photos of them trying the helmets etc., can be seen on the school's website.

The house system is alive and well on each site. As a member of the newly named Chequers House, in designing a house logo, Wilf (year 2) thought it wise to write to the Prime Minister to ask for some information about the building itself.

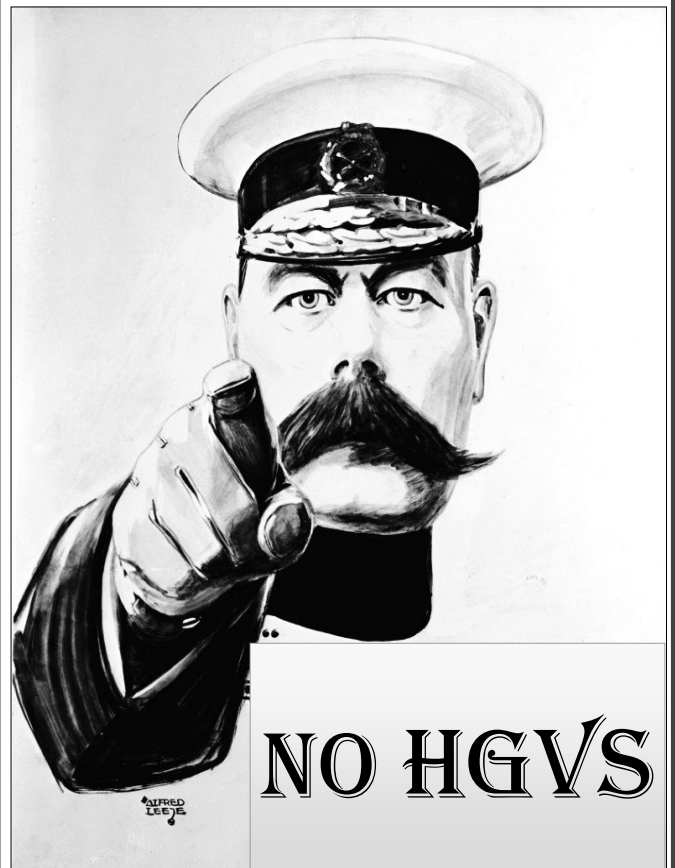

He was delighted to get a reply from 10 Downing Street!

It is always good to hear when a spark from a topic can ignite a lifelong passion even at a young age. After becoming fascinated by Tudor history, Emily (year 6) wrote to the Historian, Tracy Borman, and was then amazed to be invited on a private guided tour of Hampton Court Palace given by Tracy.

The school would be interested in knowing whether there are any ex- pupils out there who were inspired by a particular topic or teacher while at Cuddington School.

YOUR VILLAGE NEEDS YOU!

CYD Stands for Cuddington Youth Drama!

Do you like to Act? Sing? Dance?
Make up stuff?

We play drama games and improvise and find the fun and the funny. We will be performing after Easter a Sharing of Talent Show in which you can do whatever you are ready for. We collaborate and bring out the best in each other!

The beautiful stage is yours...

"I love feeling free on the stage and being so encouraged." "It's fun to act with all ages so age doesn't matter. And we make up characters and make up great costumes." "I didn't know I could sing before."

"I like the techie stuff, and it is first class equipment and support". "Everyone is fun and relaxed and just themselves."

"It is definitely my favourite part of my week."

"Once CYD, forever part of an amazing family."

The productions are of such a high standard of artistry on so many levels. The actors are incredible. Unmissable.

For many years Cuddington and the surrounding villages have been pressing Bucks highways to restrict HGV movements through our residential streets. There is now a firm proposal to achieve this - the Waddesdon Area Freight Zone. It is vital that as many people as possible respond to the consultation and support this proposal.

We will not get another opportunity.

Many businesses within the freight zone will object fiercely to the proposed restrictions. Therefore, there needs to be overwhelming public support to persuade Bucks to approve the scheme.

To register your support, please turn to page 8 for full details.

Thank you.

Thought for the month...

'Chocolate is good for you', says Medical News Today which is marvellous news for those of us who like to indulge in this sweet treat. What else though is good for us? Eating healthily? Exercise? These all help with physical wellness but what about mental and spiritual wellness?

Anxiety and depression levels are rising in the UK, figures from the Office for National Statistics found that 19.7% of people said they had experienced anxiety and depression in the last year. Even though we are wealthier and physically healthier than any time in history, we still struggle with mental and spiritual wellness.

In John's story of the life of Jesus, Jesus is recorded as saying, "I have come that they might have life and have it abundantly". Jesus showed us in his own life and his teaching what this meant. There are three main characteristics of a life lived in all its fullness.

The first is to be contemplative, taking time to be still, to find joy in simple things, to reach out to God and through these practises find peace and be refreshed.

The second characteristic is to be compassionate; that an abundant life is a life lived for others. To weep with those who weep, to be people who see and respond to the poor, the needy and the outcasts of our society.

The third is to be courageous. A full life is a life of action. A life which makes a difference in our world is willing to be a transformative influence on those we meet and is willing to step out at a cost to ourselves.

A Christian aims to become more like Jesus, even though we often fail, we try to live these three characteristics – to be contemplative, compassionate and courageous. These are the things we think are good for us. Of course a bit of chocolate now and again also helps 😊

Happy Lent! Cassa

News from the Playing Fields

Memberships for 2024 due!

If you haven't already, then please sign up for membership at the social club. Prices are:

Family £15

Individual £10

Concession £5

The terms of our licence are that clubhouse bar customers are members so we would be really grateful if everyone could comply. All profits go towards the upkeep of the playing fields and the clubhouse.

We had our bar AGM on Thursday 25th Jan and are pleased to report that the bar remains profitable and the current committee and volunteers have all signed up for another year. Which is good because already we have a lot of events in the diary!

Events

Book Club continues on the first Wednesday of the month, doors open at 7.30pm for an 8pm start.

We will be showing all England 6 Nations Rugby matches live at the clubhouse starting Saturday 3rd February.

Race night returns on Saturday 23rd March, tickets (£5 pp) can be purchased at the clubhouse or email cuddingclubbookings@gmail.com and we will arrange to get out to you.

Bingo will be back on Wednesday 27th March. Doors open at 7.30pm for an 8pm start. Books are £10 each with cash prizes to be won and a raffle at half time.

Other events to keep an eye out for this year are the Grand National Sweepstake, Men's 2024 Euros, Family Fun Day, Pool Night and Darts Competition. And as always a massive thanks to all volunteers and clubhouse users. Ellen Dyer

Ken Birkby Tree

A Liquid Amber tree has been planted in the playing fields to mark Ken Birkby's 20 years of service to the Parish Council initially as a Councillor, and then as the Chair for the last 11 years. The tree is situated near the Swan Hill entrance to the playing fields.

Telephone Box

A big thank you to Jack and Andy Luckett who undertook the intricate task of re-painting the village. Everyone agrees they have done a great job.

Boxing Day Shoot

A big thank you to everyone involved with the organization and running of the Boxing Day shoot, in particular Ben & Karen Clayton, Mike & Gilly Cottman, DB Guns, The Crown, everyone who gets up early to help set up and all the team leaders. The weather was kind this year and everyone had a fantastic time before heading back to the Crown to celebrate.

This years the winners were,
Adults : Richard Sessions & Lorraine Stevens.
Juniors : William & Daisy Powell.

Thank you Laura

The Village Voice team would like to thank Laura Ewers for all the copies of VV she has popped through our letterboxes, with a smile, over the years. We are deeply grateful, thank you. Rachael, Helen, Erica and Kathy

Cuddington Methodist Church

Our Carol Service went very well on 10th December. The band was up to its usual high standard and we had other visitors from outside the village.

Our new Minister Rev Heegon Moon shared a Bible message and some of his own testimony. Living in South Korea he was brought up as a Buddhist and wanted to be a Buddhist Monk. His Grandmother had an influence on his life and eventually he became a follower of Jesus. He was a missionary for many years and also a Minister. His wife Deborah has a beautiful voice and she sang O little town of Bethlehem at the Carol Service. We are so pleased to have them as part of our group of Churches.

Our theme at the Carol service was to see that Jesus appears all the way through the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. We proved that Jesus is indeed the light of Christmas and the light of the world in these bewildering and often very difficult days. It was a special service followed by excellent refreshments!!

Maybe come and join us in 2024? We would love to have you join us. Just a reminder that we only have a Morning Service at 10:30 am.

ALL ARE WELCOME

Fete Update

At the time of writing this, I am sad to say that we have had no takers for the roles of Treasurer and External Stall Coordinator for this year's fete.

Unfortunately, unless we get helpers soon, we will have to cancel the fete.

A reminder of what these jobs entail:

Treasurer: We are looking for someone to handle all things money. The role involves paying invoices, collecting and banking fete funds and handing out grants. The majority of this work occurs between May and September.

External Stall Coordinator: This role takes charge of sourcing commercial stalls that fit in with the fete theme and making sure they know where to go on the day. We have a list of contacts already so some of the work is done. Village run stalls are already taken care of.

If you are keen to learn more, please either email Cuddington.fete@gmail.com or call/text Ellen on 07568075642

Vehicle and Verges

It feels like there are ever more cars and vans on the roads and streets, and they are getting bigger so that parking them is becoming more of a challenge wherever we go. Our little team of road monitors are doing great work in checking the speed and types of vehicles entering Cuddington, and our Parish Council is working on securing restrictions on the size of vehicles allowed on minor roads. Those roads are crumbling under the pressure, so huge amounts of money are being spent on repairing them, some of which in my view would have been much better spent on cycleways and safe footways, such as between Cuddington and Haddenham. Had this been done over the decades, road traffic would have been reduced (school journeys, short trips to shops etc) and we might have been somewhat less reliant on cars, as they are in the Netherlands.

In our village, many people have off-road parking so the situation isn't too bad as far as village residents goes, but visiting vehicles do cause problems. We get a lot of vans and lorries delivering stuff around the village, some of which are very large, particularly those that deliver building materials. These have badly damaged verges around the village; in particular reducing the grassy verge of Spicketts Lane, reseeded last year, to rutted mud. Such verges need to be protected, and we can hope that restrictions on vehicle sizes will help in this. Parking on pavements and verges has become the norm, which can be real nuisance when they block the way for pedestrians such as is often the case along Spurt Street. Drivers should be aware that pavements are not meant for cars, and people with, or without, dogs and prams need to use them. It is particularly sad that over the past couple of years, the grass verges along Bernard Close have become habitually used by visiting cars and vans so that they are now rutted and unsightly. This is entirely unnecessary as there is plenty of parking available at the eastern end of the road, and also because there is space for vehicles to pass cars parked on the road itself instead of the verge.

Is this something we could deal with, demonstrating how we value the look of our village? Doug Kennedy

Remember a loved one this spring with a Forever Red Rose

Florence Nightingale Hospice Charity has partnered with the magnificent Waddesdon Manor to launch a very special Forever Flowers event to celebrate and remember loved ones this spring.

A stunning, temporary display of 750 bespoke metal Red Roses will be installed in the Rose Garden at Waddesdon Manor, near Aylesbury in April. Each flower will represent the life, love and memories of a loved one.

The Charity is offering you the opportunity to be a part of this event by dedicating one of these limited Forever Red Roses, and an invitation to a private viewing of the display on Monday 15th April whilst the grounds are closed to the public. The installation will then remain on display to the public for two weeks. Once the installation is removed, those who have dedicated a flower will be able to take it home to display as a forever keepsake.

By dedicating a Forever Red Rose you will be helping us to provide excellent local hospice care and be there for more patients and families across Buckinghamshire and its borders.

To dedicate a Forever Red Rose visit <https://www.fnhospice.org.uk/foreverflowers> or call 01296 429975 for more information.

From Khartoum to Cuddington

Few, if any, villagers knew of the amazing previous life led by the modest Rev. Anthony Arkell when he became Cuddington's vicar in 1963. He had already enjoyed an adventurous career. The son of a clergyman, he was born in 1898 at Hinxhill, Kent. Aged 18 he joined the Royal Flying Corps and in June 1918 piloted a British fighter and shot down a German bomber. For this exploit he was awarded the Military Cross. His local newspaper carried a celebratory article headed, "A gallant Kentish airman – Hinxhill hero and the Hun"

In 1920 he made a decision which changed his life. He joined the British Colonial Service in Sudan. This vast country with its range of climates, flora, fauna, peoples, languages and monuments excited his scientific and historical interests as well as providing an arena for his administrative talents. His first endeavour was to end the slave trade between Sudan and Ethiopia and to settle the former slaves in villages. Those freed named themselves 'Beni Arkell' – sons of Arkell. For this work he was awarded the MBE in 1929.

He undertook excavations which uncovered some of the early history of northern Sudan and encouraged students to take an interest in their history. While on leave Arkell updated his own skills by working with the famous archaeologist Sir Mortimer Wheeler. Arkell was largely responsible for setting up a National Antiquities Museum in Khartoum and then personally catalogued much of the collection. He published numerous articles and books on the history and ecology of Sudan - for example the studies of various native creatures including snails and the reed-rat, which was named, in his honour, Thryonomys Arkelli.

In 1949 he left Sudan and returned to England. He lectured in Egyptian archaeology at University College, London and was appointed honorary curator of the Petrie Museum. Once again he set about the painstaking work of cataloguing and exhibiting the artefacts. Later he was awarded a Doctorate by the University of Oxford.

In 1960, following in the footsteps of his father, he embarked on a new and final career as a vicar. After a course at Cuddesdon College he was ordained and served as a curate at Great Missenden before being appointed as vicar to Cuddington and Dinton Churches in 1963. Villagers including the late Nan and Peggy Cattell have given details of his ministry. He lived, with his wife, in the vicarage in Spicketts Lane.

He usually led four services on Sundays, two in St Nicholas' and two in St Peter & St Paul, Dinton. He reorganised Sunday School teaching, regularly visited the two primary schools of which he was Chairman of Governors and supported his wife, Joan, in her leadership of the Mothers' Union and Young Wives. Considerable repairs to the Church were necessary, particularly the tower. He took an active role with the architect and builders. At a Parish Council meeting the minutes state, 'The Vicar was thanked for his extensive efforts to obtain grants and generally for his enthusiasm for restoration.'

Rev Arkell showed a kindly and practical interest in his parishioners. He regularly assisted an elderly resident to carry coal in from an outhouse. He once came home early from holiday to take the funeral of a church member.

He sat at intervals with Walter Welford, aged 90, before he died in a cold December in 1967. The minutes of the Annual Church meeting after the vicar's retirement in 1973 record a tribute by Churchwarden, Mr Griffin. His sincerity and reverence in administering the sacrament were noted together with the kindness with which he conducted funeral services. His generosity in foregoing his Easter offering in favour of the restoration fund, in opening the vicarage for meetings and in visiting the sick and bereaved were also praised. Anthony Arkell's long and illustrious life was celebrated in a booklet written by a colleague from London University. He extolled his talents in many fields including colonial administration, in establishing museums and his scientific and historical scholarship. He possessed a warm but forthright personality and a liberal and practical approach to Christianity. He was deeply sincere, but undogmatic. This commendation is a fitting epitaph to the life of a remarkable Cuddington vicar. Peter Wenham

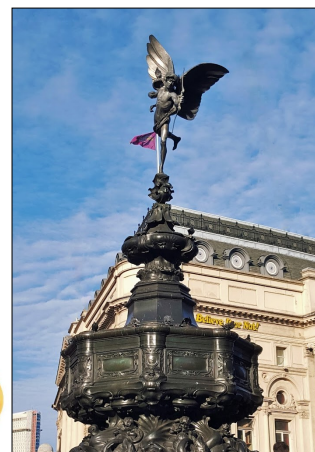

ANTHONY J. ARKELL

Did you know that the statue of the winged archer poised atop The Shaftesbury Memorial Fountain in Piccadilly Circus known by all as 'Eros', is in fact a depiction of his brother Anteros?

Anteros was chosen by sculptor, Alfred Gilbert, because as the God of Selfless Love he was thought to suitably reflect the philanthropic good works of Lord Shaftesbury. His brother Eros was considered too frivolous and risqué by the creator.

So a famous landmark yes, but Cupid he is not!

We have five very diverse titles to screen at the Village Picture House for the month of February. On Thursday 1st, we'll be screening Typist Artist Pirate King (cert. 12A) starring Monica Dolan (Mr Bates vs the Post Office) and Kelly Macdonald. This funny and compassionate film is a fictionalised portrait of the late "avant-garde and misunderstood" artist Audrey Amiss, who studied at the Royal Academy of Arts but was unable to complete her training after being hospitalised due to mental illness. Amiss and her psychiatric nurse set out on a road trip to an art gallery in Sunderland, and their friendship grows as they reconnect with key individuals and moments from Amiss's past. "A likable, generous, imaginative response to the work of Amiss," says The Guardian. "The Thelma and Louise of the A1 make the film a journey worth taking," says Time Out. "This portrait of Audrey Amiss is by turns riotous and touching," says the British Film Institute.

On 8th February we'll be showing the final film in the Indiana Jones series: Indiana Jones and the Dial of Destiny (cert. 12A). In 1944, daredevil archaeologist Indiana Jones (Harrison Ford) retrieves one half of the Antikythera, an ancient dial built by Archimedes, from the hands of Nazi scientist Jürgen Voller. Twenty-five years later, Indy teams up with his estranged goddaughter Helena (Phoebe Waller-Bridge) and they race to track down the other half of the dial. But Voller, who is now working for NASA, is determined to take the artefact for himself and use it to alter the outcome of World War II... "A fitting goodbye to cinema's favourite grave-robber," says Empire. "An apt final journey for Indy ... an enjoyable, old-school action-adventure," says Radio Times.

On the 15th our film will be And Then Come The Nightjars (cert. 15), a gentle two-hander about a time of crisis in British agriculture. Adapted for the screen from Bea Roberts' multi-award-winning stage play, the film tells the story of an unlikely friendship between a Devon farmer and the vet who is assigned to cull his precious herd following the foot-and-mouth outbreak in 2001.

"A touching tale of love and loss on the farm," says The Guardian. "The characters feel real, with a genuine emotional core," says The Independent. "A tender, finely observed portrait of male friendship," says the Evening Standard.

On 22nd February we have National Theatre Live's latest title Vanya (cert. 15), captured live during its sold-out run in the West End last year. Andrew Scott (Fleabag, Sherlock) brings multiple characters to life in Simon Stephens' radical new version of Chekhov's Uncle Vanya. Hopes, dreams, and regrets are thrust into sharp focus in this one-man adaptation which explores the complexities of human emotions. "Andrew Scott's one-man Chekhov is the performance of the year," says The i. "An acting masterclass from the mercurial Andrew Scott ... transfixing," says the Evening Standard.

"Andrew Scott's take on Chekhov is funny, sexy and surprisingly emotional," says The Independent.

The on the 29th we'll be screening The Miracle Club (cert. 12A) starring Maggie Smith, Laura Linney and Kathy Bates. In 1967, three generations of close friends from Ballygar, a hard-knocks community in Dublin, have one tantalizing dream: to win a pilgrimage to the sacred French town of Lourdes. The women secure tickets and set out on the journey that they hope will change their lives, but old wounds are reopened along the way, forcing the women to confront their pasts even as they travel in search of a miracle. "The great Dame and Laura Linney make great sparring partners in this teary fish-out-of-water period piece," says The Telegraph. "A talented ensemble cast ... the film's charms outnumber its clichés," says Rotten Tomatoes.

Looking ahead to March, on the 7th we'll be showing The Lesson starring Richard E. Grant and Daryl McCormack in a story of family secrets, resentment, and retribution. On the 14th, Anthony Hopkins stars in One Life, the story of British humanitarian Sir Nicholas "Nicky" Winton, who helped save hundreds of Central European children from the Nazis on the eve of World War II. News from the Pub

Many of you may have already heard that Glyn and I have put in our notice for the tenancy at The Crown. We are not leaving just yet, our last day will be 1 May 2024. Fullers are advertising the tenancy and we are hoping they are able to find someone to take on this lovely pub.

However, for us it has been a difficult but considered decision to move on, we have not been able to secure a new chef for the kitchen. Chris Hunt continues to work with us and we are grateful to him. However, we have not been able to realise the potential of the food offering at the pub and hope that the next custodians are able to develop this with more success. We had a very busy Christmas and New Year holiday with many new faces using the pub for family gatherings and celebrations. Many of whom were not local but were made truly welcome.

Again we were happy to host and supply the prizes for the Boxing Day Clay Pigeon shoot, our sofa was welcome at the end of a very busy day when the pub was buzzing. New Years Eve saw nibbles supplied not only by us but also thanks to Lynne and Phaedra for some delicious food. A small party but some great music, accompanied by some accomplished dance moves, often a challenge with our low ceilings

As I write we are looking forward to hosting Burns Night, which again is likely to be a small and exclusive celebration but something we have enjoyed introducing in the 3 years we have been here. We also look forward to the Cuddington Shoot Annual Dinner a tradition we have enjoyed hosting while we have been here.

In February we are hoping that the inaugural Folk music evening will attract some of you into the pub to enjoy live music from our talented locals. (7th February)
Of course, we will be offering a special menu for those wanting to enjoy Valentine's night with loved ones, this is not restricted to couples, come and celebrate with family and friends, enjoy a great meal and a special time together making memories.

We know that February and March can continue to feel a bit bleak, but every day sunset gets a bit later and we can start to plan towards the Spring and Summer. To help make these 'dark' months a bit easier we will be re-introducing our Friday offer, Fish and Chips with either a pint, a small house wine or a pepsi for £13 (a saving of over £5 on our normal prices). Our next Charity Quiz will be on Monday 5 February, we will be donating to the Aylesbury Food Bank again, helping those that continue to struggle to make ends meet at the moment. We hope to see many of you over the next few months while we are here at the pub to enjoy this fantastic local facility. Cheers, Tracy & Glyn

on Buckinghamshire Council proposal to reduce the volume of Heavy Goods Vehicles on country roads in our area

The Problem

- Village communities in the area say their lives are being negatively affected by heavy goods vehicles (HGVs) passing through their villages.
- People are concerned about the effect of this traffic on their homes and other buildings, worried about damage to roads and the landscape, and concerned about road safety and air quality.
- We know some HGVs are just passing through the area - using it as a rat-run.
- A survey in 2022 over 5 days indicated that of 1,351 HGVs using roads in the area, at least 35% were just passing through.

Buckinghamshire Council Proposal

- Buckinghamshire Council aims to remove these rat-running HGVs. This would be done by banning them from an area of roads called the Waddesdon Freight Zone (see map).
- The ban would not apply to vehicles travelling to destinations within the zone. This means deliveries and collections for local homes and businesses would not be affected.

The proposed Waddesdon Freight Zone would be the area:

South of the A41
East of the B4011
North of the A418
West of Rabans Lane,
Aylesbury.

It includes: Chearsley,
Cuddington, Upper Winchendon,
Ashendon, Westcott, Brill,
Piddington and nearby villages

The Consultation

- A short survey is being carried out, asking for your views on the proposal. The survey can be completed either on-line (see <https://www.cuddingtonvillage.com/>) or on paper with a free post address for replies. Paper copies and more information are available from any Parish Councillor, from the Bell or by phoning 07780 600640.

Please complete the survey.

The more response, the more chance we have of getting rid of this unwanted traffic.
