All ages are warmly invited to celebrate Christmas Day

We have a service every Sunday at 10am. All are welcome.

From a day back in the summer where I mentioned to a few people in the pub that I was up for organising the village fireworks event, the word swiftly got out and I was kindly invited to the next CPFA meeting to share my ideas.

I nervously walked into the meeting a few weeks later with a whole bunch of suggestions for an ambitious event; live music, disco tent, outside food caterers, and a bigger fire.

I did not know how well something different would be received, but the Cuddington Committee were extremely warm and welcoming and I couldn't have been happier with how they encouraged me to share the vision I had for the fireworks evening.

Thought for the month...

Celebrity Traitors, which reached its conclusion last month, has proved to be a massive success for the BBC, with as many as 12 million people tuning in for the final. I was one of them! Hooked from early in the series, I found myself enjoying it despite not having seen the earlier versions of the show. It was as fun to watch the cast and the gameplay as it was to observe the psychological dynamics of events in the Scottish castle.

One of the fun aspects of watching the programme was seeing the different reactions of the players, especially on discovering the identities of the unfortunate victims each morning. Of course, the three Traitors had full knowledge of everyone's roles in the game, and it was they who decided who would be 'murdered'. But each of the Faithful players knew only who they were, and were always struggling to know whom and what to believe, and how to respond.

As we think back this Christmas to the familiar story told in nativity shows and carol services, it is easy to overlook the faith displayed by the key participants in the Christmas story. Mary and Joseph each responded with faith when told of the coming of their miraculous child. The shepherds, who were the first to be invited to meet the Messiah, took up that invitation and journeyed to Bethlehem, despite not knowing what they would find or the implications of what Jesus would go on to achieve in his life and death. As we remember those events once more, let us try to consider how those people might have felt at the time, and may we too respond in faith.

News from St Nicholas Church

Canon Phil Groves and the Cuddington Churchwardens are delighted to be able to announce that Tracey Jones (TJ) has been appointed as Assistant Curate, but to be known as Vicar, for the Parish of Cuddington, in the Buckinghamshire Archdeaconry.

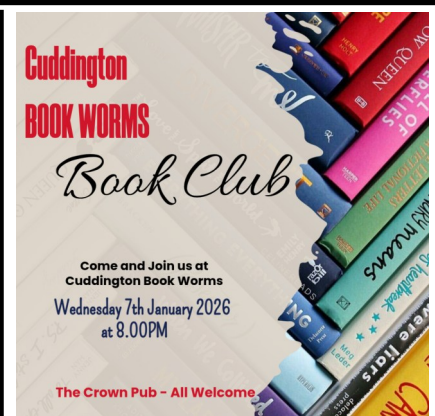

It is hoped that TJ will begin her new ministry in January; and will be moving with her husband to Church Close.

TJ served as an A&E Nurse in the Royal Navy and NHS before her Ordination in 2019. She served her Curacy at Hughenden (Wycombe Deanery) and at Wexham (Burnham and Slough Deanery). TJ and Richard enjoy camping, hiking and playing multi-sports at a local Sports Centre. TJ is also a bellringer so hoping to visit other towers around the benefice. She and Richard are very much looking forward to moving here and getting to know the village community.

Big Quiz Success

The Big Quiz, hosted by St Nicholas' Church and held in the Bernard Hall on 15 November, was a great success with over 60 people enjoying some challenging and enjoyable rounds of questions cleverly put together by Angela and Charlie Sanderson. Eight teams competed for prizes and pride, as well as some innovative individual challenges along the way. Many thanks to all who came and enabled us to raise just over £450 for Tearfund - a fantastic effort! Thank you to all who worked hard to put the event on, especially the Sandersons, Alan and Stella on the bar and Chris Long on sound. See you next year!

Perhaps the biggest difference to previous years was to make the event chargeable, with a ticket only approach. I felt this was the only way to safely control numbers and have a budget available to make the event as safe as possible. It really was amazing how much just a small contribution from everyone enabled us to produce something that looked and felt like such a special village event. Thank you to everyone that came along, kindly paid for tickets and supported us. We really did appreciate the vote of confidence.

The event would simply not have been possible without our brilliant village volunteers. A special thanks must go out to a number of people.

From the day I recruited Patrick, everything became much easier. He was super slick in everything he did, especially the organisation of the volunteers which was invaluable. He also travelled miles so he could collect and supply thousands of pounds worth of sound and lighting equipment. This undeniably made the event look and sound phenomenal. Patrick - you were amazing at every step of the way. Thank you.

My parents, Neil and Jill - did lots of running around leading up to the event. Mum spent a day in my kitchen with me cooking for the 'potato stall' and special credit must be given to my dad for following through on his promise to deliver one of the best and safest bonfires I've ever seen.

Mark Kirsren owned the BBQ like the Cuddington final boss that he is. Everything was delicious!

Gilly and Loraine did an exceptional job on the Mulled wine which was wonderful to drink while listening to the live musicians from 'Winchenden Brass Band' and the exceptionally talented vocals of Lisa Nora, a local lady from Haddenham.

The club bar and the outside ale bar had a very good night, which in turn is very good for the CPFA and much appreciated!

Mike Cottman hosting the evening was an honour. My daughter Holly said: 'He has such an iconic voice.' She is right, Mike really is the voice of Cuddington and we are lucky to have to have him.

Ellen designed all the artwork for our advertising which was wonderfully eye catching & looked fabulous.

FCADS brought some lovely yummy cakes...delicious!

Thanks to Sonia for helping out with the insurance and offering her experience gained from previous years' events. Thanks for always being such a kind help in our local community.

And of course, we can't forget the fireworks.

My brother Duncan helped me light and launch them up into the night sky. It's a surreal experience, igniting those fuses and watching each firework burst into colour right above your head. All the while taking care to dodge the odd bit of falling gunpowder!

Cuddington is such a special village with the combined efforts of so many. I am very grateful to everyone who played a part in making Patrick and my first debut village gathering such a wonderful success.

Building work at St Nicholas' Church

We are pleased to report that in the last week of November, the church's electricity supply was successfully upgraded to three phase. This is a first step towards a future upgrade to the church's heating system, which is expensive to run and not terribly effective. We hope that in time we will be able to replace it with a modern and efficient solution. Much work went into this, applying for the necessary permissions and liaising with contractors. We are very grateful to the Fete Committee who granted the church £1,000 for this project. We were also successful in applying for a significant grant from the Oxford Diocese, with the balance coming from church funds. Back in October, builders were on site for a few weeks completing work in the chancel and the vestry. They carried out some repairs to the roof and made repairs to areas of the walls that had been affected by water ingress. Ongoing projects include a replacement flagpole, which has been ordered, and a replacement to the north gate in the churchyard, for which we now have the necessary permissions to proceed. Many thanks to all who have contributed to these projects. It is the nature of caring for a Grade II* listed building and churchyard that there will always be works such as these that need doing. We rely on donations to enable us to do this work. If you feel able to give, it is possible to do so online at parishgiving.org.uk or directly: Cuddington PCC, Sort Code: 405240, A/C: 00034867. Will Lewis and James Stonham Churchwardens

Another of Cuddington's Assets

Last month Ken wrote about a village facility that perhaps we take for granted and which deserves our support; the playing field. I thought that it would be a good idea to follow it up by reminding everyone of another important asset and some of the services that are on offer. Sugi and Jeyan work extremely hard to keep our village stores open from 6.30am to 7pm and offer a wide range of services in such a convenient location. If you use Amazon and click on local collect and return the shop gets a small amount per parcel at no cost to you. Similarly for the Royal Mail redelivery and local collect service. A new DPD collection, delivery and local collect service is available now. The more we all use these services, the more it supports this facility. The post office itself offers many banking services where cash and cheques can be deposited and debit card cash withdrawals made. Eurocurrency can be obtained on demand. As well as mobile phone top ups, gas and electric key top ups can be made. Christmas overseas postage and gift cards can be purchased and those beautiful Christmas stamps. It is amazing to think that we can access all these services as well as an astonishing variety of foods and other stock in such a small space. When we hear about the financial pressures on independent retailers, let's all make a renewed commitment to support this very important village asset. Caroline Stonham

The Sunshine Club has available on loan for anyone with mobility problems a number of aids: wheelchairs, walking frames, walking sticks, raised toilet seats.

School News

Smart winter uniforms appeared after October half term, and more recently warm coats, hats and wellies as the children are encouraged to play outside in all weathers. Remembrance Day was respectfully observed at both sites on Tuesday 11th November. The infant pupils helped lay a wreath at the village war memorial in the churchyard. Children in Need fundraising saw the pupils and staff with crazy hair in assorted colours and styles brightening up a dull November day!

Miss Webb recently hosted a parent's phonics workshop and a governor/parent workshop was also arranged to explain how feedback from the parent survey was helping governors to set the strategic direction of the school this coming year. Meanwhile much excitement mounts as Olympic gymnast Steve Frew is visiting to inspire our future athletes and run a sponsored PE challenge.

As we write the children are moving towards the end of a very busy term reading Christmas Stories in Advent, rehearsing for their Nativity plays and practising their Carol singing for the Sunshine Club Christmas party. The excitement is already building!

Cuddington's Baptist Chapel

It's Walter here again. In 1828 I watched with great interest the Cuddington Baptist Chapel being built. The land which used to have a cottage and garden had been bought from a village farmer, Thomas Bailey, for £50 by Baptist Trustees. Up till then the Baptists had held their services in Dinton Castle until the owners objected. Afterwards we met in the house of Thomas Watkins as a temporary home.

Imagine how excited we were to see our own handsome chapel gradually appear. Like many of the buildings in the village it is constructed of the local witchert clay and has an upper storey with a room for a minister. It is a neat plain white building. On a Sunday I always enjoyed my visits to check on its progress at the top of Dadbrook. Usually I would stop to have a chat with a fellow villager drawing water from the pump on the Upper Green. Opposite the Green is Robert Ward's smithy. When the forge is alight it is a stirring sight and gives off much heat. Usually there is a horse tied to one of the nearby trees waiting patiently for new shoes.

Many of the Trustees responsible for the project lived in Haddenham, attending their own chapel which was built in 1809. Also involved was one of our boot and shoe makers, Henry Shranks. The completed chapel has seating for over 200 including an upstairs gallery.

I was pleased when Edward Bedding was ordained as our first minister. He was very ready to admit that he had been "a very foolish and wicked young man" with bouts of drunkenness and swearing. He asserted that he gradually mended his ways by turning to the Christian faith, largely by the influences of Peter Tyler, minister at Haddenham Chapel and Thomas Scott, who was the vicar of the church in Aston Sandford. Their persuasive preaching encouraged Mr Bedding to come "off sin" and reform his life. He had become a devoted member of the Baptist Chapel in Haddenham and on Christmas Day 1815 he was baptised. He said he had become convinced of "the love of Christ's mercy and forgiveness for sins". He would often say, "come and serve Jesus too". Sometimes gently he would say to me, "Walter, beware of the temptation of living too near The Red Lion"!

Rev Bedding was always ready to visit Cuddington's sick and dying. He also had the habit of writing portions of the scripture on pieces of paper which he spread around the village, hoping they would be heeded. He set up and ran a very successful Sunday School and frequently preached at local missionary meetings. His slogan was "Christ first, Christ midst and Christ last".

In the summer of 1849 we were urged to pray for the people in nearby Gibraltar. A cholera epidemic had swept through the hamlet and 19 had died within a month. I knew Samuel Holt whose large family was the most affected. Three children died on August 9th followed by his wife a week later. Another son, Richard, died next day and Samuel himself became the sixth victim. Only three offspring were spared. During the height of the disease some people isolated themselves in tents. An article in the Bucks Advertiser spoke of 'this fatal scourge' and 'this awful calamity'. Eventually a tablet relating this sad event was placed on the southern wall of St Nicholas Church. There was a widespread fear here that a similar epidemic would occur in our village. We were very fortunate that this did not happen. It was a welcome relief.

Under Edward Bedding's inspired leadership the Chapel continued to flourish and the National Religious Survey of 1851 reported that attendances at the Sunday School averaged 65 at each afternoon session. An average of 130 adults attended the afternoon service while 100 attended in the evening. In 1859 Mr Bedding conducted the Chapel's first wedding ceremony for George Green and Sarah Alcock from nearby Winchendon Mill. I know George well. His parents run The Crown. Unfortunately he has a reputation for drunkenness and soon left the village to seek his fortune in London. Sadly Mr Bedding died in 1870, mourned by so many grateful people for his faithful ministry. Later in 1875 William Rose, a farmer who lives in Dadbrook House, sold a 'parcel of land' to provide our chapel with a burial ground. When I die I hope to be buried there. I am fortunate to have reached 70 – few of my fellow villagers have lived as long.

Peter Wenham

Newcomers to the village may like to know that Cuddington's Baptist Chapel stood until 1993. In February of that year it partially collapsed due to water seeping and freezing which damaged the witchert. The Chapel had to be completely demolished, but the burial ground is still there.

CPFA New Pitch

Cuddington is very fortunate in having the playing field, an area for sport and exercise and also for enjoying a drink in the club especially in the summertime when you can admire the view across the field. The CPFA take great pride in maintaining the football pitch and the field in general, and since the cricket square was allowed to grow out several years ago there has been quite a large area not being used for any sport. The CPFA took the decision to install a smaller 9 x 9 football pitch with permanent goals for the young footballers in the village to have a place to play and practice their football skills, and for Haddenham Youth to sometimes use for training, the goals can be folded and stored away for village events. This new pitch along with the existing full size one will be maintained by the CPFA to keep the goals and line marking in good order.

Village Picture House Screenings December 2025 and January 2026

We have two more films at The Village Picture House before the Christmas break. On Thursday 4th we'll be showing The Naked Gun 2025 (cert. 15) starring Liam Neeson and Pamela Anderson. Neeson plays Frank Drebin Jr., a police officer like his legendary father, and needs to solve the murder of a software engineer to prevent the police department from being shut down. "Liam Neeson deadpans impeccably in this outrageously amusing spoof reboot," says The Guardian. "The legacy sequel is so hilarious it made me physically crumple in my seat," says The Telegraph. "A film that boasts mile-a-minute sight gags and puns ... a masterclass in buffoonery," says The Independent. "Jokes so fresh and full of life they could well become as perennially quotable as their forebears," says Radio Times. Then on the 11th it's Christmas Party time! Our film will be White Christmas (cert. U), the classic, Oscar-winning Christmas movie starring Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen. Two army buddies become a top-notch musical comedy team after the war and are now the toast of Broadway. While on the road in Florida the pair become involved with two aspiring singers, and despite some romantic complications between the couples, everything ends on a happy note when Christmas Eve brings rave reviews for the show – and a much-needed fall of snow! "With wit, exuberance and some show stopping hits, White Christmas is a cracking musical," says The BBC. "This unabashedly sentimental holiday favourite is too cheerful to resist," says Rotten Tomatoes. The £10 ticket price includes Christmas refreshments at the bar – come early to enjoy the party! Our first film of the New Year, on 15th January, is already selling fast. Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale (cert. PG) is written by Julian Fellowes and follows the Crawley family and their staff as they enter the 1930s. When Mary finds herself at the centre of a public scandal caused by her divorce and the family faces financial trouble, the entire household grapples with the threat of social disgrace. The Crawleys must embrace change as the staff prepare for a new chapter with the next generation leading Downton Abbey into the future. "News of Lady Mary's divorce is presented with impeccable seriousness in a watchable outing that shouldn't be the last," says The Guardian. "A solid send-off for the whole Downton saga, with everyone – upstairs and downstairs – getting their moment to shine," says Empire. "About as graceful and fitting an endnote as you could hope for," says The Independent.

29th, we'll be screening the National Theatre's latest production of Hamlet (cert. 12A, TBC). Olivier Award-winner Hiran Abeysekera (Life of Pi) is Hamlet in this fearless, contemporary take on Shakespeare's famous tragedy. Trapped between duty and doubt, surrounded by power and privilege, young Prince Hamlet dares to ask the ultimate question: you know the one... "Hiran Abeysekera is very entertaining as a fully mad prince in the National Theatre's scrappy indie," says Time Out. "Hiran Abeysekera brings humour to the tragedy and Francesca Mills steals the show as Ophelia," says The Guardian. "Francesca Mills shines as Ophelia ... one extraordinary performance," says The Telegraph. Looking ahead to February, on the 5th we'll be showing The Roses starring Olivia Colman and Benedict Cumberbatch. Life seems easy for picture-perfect couple Theo and Ivy: successful careers, a loving marriage and great kids. But as Theo's career nose-dives while Ivy's own ambitions take off, a tinderbox of fierce competition and hidden resentments ignites...
